OUTLINES.

It has been arranged that Mr. Bryan will speak in Topeka, Kans., on the 27th instant. Many newspaper men visited Democratic headquarters in Chicago yesterday——Mrs. Gould files an amended complaint in her divorce suit mentioning the name of the woman co-respondents——Mr. Bryan will attend the Kern notification meeting and make a speech. He will make other speeches in Indiana——The cruiser Colorado goes a shore in the harbor of Seattle——The rioting continues in Springfield, Ill. There has been two lynchings and several lives have been lost. The rioters threaten to stone the State Guard armory——The United States Marine Corps again takes the lead in the target shooting at Camp Perry——Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, declared in an interview yesterday that the political situation in New York State is that "The Democracy is going to win this year." He says that the popularity of Bryan lies in the dissastisfaction with Rooseveltian policies——Captain Baldwin's dirigible balloon broke all aerial navigation records yesterday, by remaining aloft for more than two hours in the official endurance test——New York Markets: Spot cotton quiet, 10 points lower, middling uplands 10.50, middling gulf 10.75. Flour steady. Wheat irregular No. 2 red 99 3-4 to 1.00, options 7-8 to 1 1-8. Corn firm No. 2 89 1-2 nominal elevator, options 38 to 1-2 net lower. Oats spot quiet, mixed 52. Rosin quiet 2.90 to 2.95. Turpentine quiet 39 1-2. Money on call nominal, time loans firm and dull.

This is going to be another 1892 election year—a perfect Democratic land-side. Mr. Taft is not going to be anywhere.

If Mr. Taft can prove his ability to ride horseback the people will probably forgive him for his alleged peculiar religious views.

Mr. Bryan's speech of acceptance seems to have taken the whole country by surprise. It was of very different tone from what was expected.

The Democrats held county conventions or primaries in many counties yesterday. The legislative and county candidates are about all in now. The next thing is the voting.

Isn't it about time some of those "canned speeches" Messrs Taft and Bryan are making into phonographs are being given out to the people? The campaign seems to be dragging.

The indications are that it is going to be a land-slide for Mr. Bryan this year. It looks like the strongest Republican States will, about election time, be falling over each other to see which can first get into the Democratic column.

The Durham Herald says it is fashionable for people in that city to go gunning on the first of the month hunting for bill toters. This is an outgrowth, we suppose, of the mean quality of the liquor the blind-tiger dealers dispense in that city.

The Greensboro Record in speaking of the Bryan speech of acceptance says it seems to have knocked the opposition silly; that it was so different from what was expected that it has not recoered from the shock. It was truly a knock-out blow to the enemy.

In less than a month now we will know who will be the Democratic and Republican candidates for Governor of the State of New York. Indications are that the Republicans will nominate Governor Hughes unless they are afraid that he is too honest for them.

Since the heavy rains the mosquitoes have been unusually numerous in this city. The health officers should take extra precautions at this time to put the city in proper sanitary condition. The increase in the number of mosquitoes shows that there is something wrong with the sanitary conditions.

We hope the New Hanover Democrats will take steps to have Mr. W. W. Kitchin make a speech here during the campaign. He is one of the most eloquent speakers in the State and an all round splendid man, but he is not well known in this part of the State. Arrangements should be made to have him visit this city and make a speech here. It would be well for him to spend several days here so our people can become thoroughly acquainted with him. As it is our party's nominee is almost a total stranger to the greater part of the voters in this section of the State. It should not be so. Before election day he should know our people and let them know him.

ROUSING SPEECH FROM ADAMS

NEWS OF THE STATE CAPITAL

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 15.—At the Republican county convention here today the feature was the address of State Chairman Spencer B. Adams, who sharply criticised William W. Kitchin, Democratic nominee for Governor, saying that though twelve years in Congress he had never done anything against the trusts, but had on the contrary done everything possible to obstruct all legislation sought to be enacted for the glory of his country.

He criticised Governor Glenn for his action in the railroad passenger rate war terming him the "double action and perpetual motion governor." He ridiculed Bryan, saying the latter had already made up his cabinet with Josephus Daniels as Secretary of War and that Bryan was absolute boss and dictator. He predicted Democratic defeat National and State .

The convention nominated Christopher Johnson for sheriff; William J. Andrews the oldest son of Vice President A. B. Andrews, of the Southern Railway, for treasurer; Powhatan Mathews, for the Lower House. The other nominations were left to the executive committee. Republicans look upon their convention today as most important, going so far as to declare it breaks the solid South and that they will carry this county.

The convention tentatively instructed for Cyrus Thompson, for Governor by giving delegates leave to vote for someone else if thought best, and it endorsed the acts of Spencer B. Adams as State Chairman after a hot dispute between Lester Butler, a brother of ex-Senator Marion Butler, and Postmaster Briggs, Butler opposing endorsement as unnecessary. There were some exciting scenes.

Democratic Primaries.

The Democratic primary for the nomination of a county and Legislative ticket was held today, resulting in maporities for the following named: Senate, William B. Jones; House, John W. Hinsdale, Jr., Eli Scarborough and Albert Cox; Sheriff, J. H. Sears, who did not have opposition; Register of Deeds, J. J. Bernard, who was also without opposition. The old board of County Commissioners was renominated. It will be necessary to hold the second primary to decide the nominee for treasurer. Brown Pegram led today with B. P. Williamson a close second and C. E. Crowford third.

The funeral of Dr. Peter Evans Hines was held today from Christ Episcopal Church and was attended by the Confederate Veterans, all the doctors in the city and by a great number of prominent persons. Dr. Hines was greatly beloved in this community and he was especially dear to the Veterans for whom he had constantly done so much. He had been a Vestryman of Christ Church and a member of the standing committee of this Episcopal diocese since 1890. He was one of the most generous of men and his kindnesses to the poor and the deserving are a cherished memory. Among those from other points who attended the funeral were Rev. Walter Smith and Colonel A. L. Smith, of Charlotte.

Among today's arrivals was Mr. John P. Kerr, of Asheville, who managed Mr. Craig's campaign in the Spring and early Summer. He gives good news of Democratic prospects in the mountain districts.

The movement here for reform in the municipal government of Raleigh is certainly a powerful one and an early beginning is made in order to be sure that there is a change in conditions. For a good many months this matter has been a very prominent topic of talk here and now at least there is action.

Mr. Elliott Daengerfield, a native of Fayetteville, but for the past twenty-five years noted as a painter in New York, si now at his Summer home at Blowing Rock, where he has a big studio and also a class of advanced pupils. He has a number of orders for portraits and other pictures.

Mr. Eric Norden, of Wilmington, a very accomplished amateur photographer, has presented to the Hall of History exquisite pictures of the famous mansion at Orton Farm, built by King Roger Moore and of the ruined church St. Phillip's at Old Brunswick near Orton. Both pictures are really works of art

Today the remains of Freight Conductor Sidney Green, who was killed at Petersburg yesterday, were brought here. He was caught between the cars of his train and when found was unconscious and wedged between the cars. He has been in the service of

IMPORTANT GATHERING

Reports of the Officers Will Show the Association to be in Most Gratifying Condition—Large Attendance.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the East Carolina Truck and Fruit Growers' Association will be held in the county court house here Wednesday afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock, and it is stated that practically all of the stock will be represented. It is understood that several matters of great importance to the members of the association will be brought up for the consideration of the stockholders.

The annual reports of the officers will show gratifying gains over any previous year. The association has grown from year to year and has not only been of great benefit to the members but to the entire section embraced in the association.

Mayor William E. Springer has been president of the association for a long time and to his efforts is due in no small measure the phenomenal success of the organization. It is understood that he will tender his resignation at the meeting of the stockholders as his other duties prevent him from giving the proper time and attention to the office.

The executive committee will meet in the office of the secretary, Mr. Henry T. Bauman, at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning for the purpose of reviewing the reports that will be submitted to the stockholders. The committee is composed of twenty members. The directors will meet at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

BUTTERFLY DANCE AT LUMINA.

Will be Given Tomorrow Night—Children's Souvenir Dance.

Tomorrow the beautiful butterfly dance will be given at Lumina and it is said that this will be the prettiest of all the dances yet given. The ball room will be decorated with hundreds of butterflies and pretty favors will be distributed. It is understood that a surprise feature will be worked off at this dance that is sure to take with the onlookers and is worth going to see.

On Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 5:30 o'clock there will be another souvenir dance for the children. The one given last Tuesday was an immense success and it will be strange if on this coming Tuesday the big pavilion is not crowded with happy little ones.

The children's dances are proving so popular that the company is considering having a children's favor dance at one of the evening dances, allowing the children to have the floor until 9:30 o'clock.

This would no doubt prove a very popular feature and it would give the grown-ups who are unable to attend in the afternoon an opportunity to see the children dance.

NO JAIL FOR HIM

In Justice Bornemann's court yesterday afternoon Gus Williams, colored, was tried on the charge of seduction under promise of marriage and by persuasion of the court he agreed to marry, but was unable to obtain the money to pay the costs of the action and to purchase the marriage license. After a considerable delay some of his friends went off to borrow the money for him, but they failed to return and the defendant grew anxious having been told that he would be compelled to go to jail unless the necessary wherewith was forth coming. The magistrate's office was full to overflowing with witnesses and spectators, who had gathered to attend the trial, and the negro very unceremoniously walked out of the office and down the street. When he reached the corner of Princess and Second he darted down the street and his escape was not discovered until he was out of reach.

MRS. L. W. MANNING DEAD

Her many friends in this city will be saddened and shocked to learn of the death of Mrs. Lawrence W. Manning, formerly Miss Ellen H. Faison, which occurred at her home in Washington, D. C., Friday morning, following an illness of several weeks. The deceased was a daughter of Hon. Walter E. Faison who held several important positions during Cleveland's administration, and a grand-daughter of Rev. Jas. M. Sprunt, D. D., of Keanansville.

Two years ago she was happily married to Mr. Manning, a lawyer of wide reputation, who was secretary to Wm. H. Taft, while he was in the Philippines. Since then Mr. Manning has practiced his profession in Washington.

Mr. Faison, father of Mrs. Manning, died in this city in 1897, while visiting at the home of Dr. J. E. Matthews.

The deceased was 26 years old and is survived by a child, three weeks old, her husband, twin sisters, Misses Kate Sprunt and Julia Matthews Faison, who reside in this city with their aunt, Mrs. J. E. Matthews, and one brother, Mr. Haywood R. Faison, a civil engineer who is now in Mexico aiding in the construction of a railroad.

Mrs. Manning frequently visited the family of Dr. Matthews and is known to a wide circle of friends who will be sorely grieved to hear of her untimely death.

The remains will be laid to rest this afternoon in Lexington, Ky., the old home of Mr. Manning.

PERSONAL ENCOUNTER.

Mr. Lewis Moore and Mr. Horace King Come to Blows—Separated.

A lively personal encounter took place at the New League Park yesterday afternoon, when Mr. Lewis Moore, city editor of the Evening Dispatch, and Mr. Horace King, vice president of the Goldsboro baseball organization, came to blows. The combatants were quickly separated by friends.

It seems that Mr. King was offended at something Mr. Moore had written about him and gave vent to his feelings up town yesterday morning in the presence of a number of friends of Mr. Moore. According to them, Mr. King applied an insulting epithet to Mr. Moore and they told Mr. Moore of what had been said. At the baseball grounds in the afternoon Mr. Moore went to Mr. King and demanded an apology which was not forthcoming. Mr. Moore then struck Mr. King and the two went together, but, as stated above, were separated by mutual friends before any damage was done to either.

Mr. Moore surrendered immediately to Deputy Sheriff Piver. The hearing of the case will take place before Justice Bornemann tomorrow.

A Crap Game Raided.

While a crap game was in progress yesterday afternoon in a secluded place in the yard of the Seaboard Air Line Railway, Policemen C. P. Newton and Leon George managed to get to a safe distance and watch the game for a few minutes and then walked up on the bunch and arrested four of the participants, besides obtaining money and dice to be used as evidence against them. Those arrested were Otis Outlaw, J. F. Freeman and Ed Coleman.

Empire Watch Charm Offered.

Messrs. J. W. Murchison & Co., have received a letter from Messrs. J. H. Lau & Co., agents for the Ballistite and Empire smokeless powder, announcing that they will offer a handsome Empire watch charm to the member of the Wilmington Gun Club. The shoot for the prize will take place Wednesday afternoon at the club grounds. The shoot will be a handicap one at 50 birds.

Upwards of two thousand and five hundred enthusiastic fans saw Wilmington take a double header from Goldsboro at the New League Park yesterday afternoon, 1 to 0 being the result in each game. This gives to the Sailors the entire series played here. The visitors failed to score a single run.

The long and hotly contested game of Friday, when it took seventeen innings to decide the game, had the effect of drawing to the grounds yesterday afternoon the largest crowd ever seen at baseball games here. The fans went expecting to see two splendid exhibitions of the National sport and they were not disappointed in the least. The first game was not decided until the end of the fourteenth inning when Rath succeeded in making the round of the bases and came in home amidst the greatest demonstration of the baseball season. By agreement, which was entered into at the beginning of the contest, the second game was called at the end of the seventh inning. So much time was consumed in playing the first game that nine innings could not have been played on the second before dark.

In the fourteenth inning of the first game Rath landed safely on first on a bunted ball; Hoey sacrificed, advancing Rath to second; Sharpe flew out to centre; Ross got a hot line drive to left field, which was too warm for the fielder and Rath scored.

In the second game, the fourthe inning, Hoey was first at the bat, he fanned; Sharpe came up and got a pretty single to left garden. He stole second and went to third when the second baseman dropped the ball; Kite fanned; Smith hit to left field fence for two bases and Sharpe scored. Doak got safe on first on an infield hit, Doak stole second. Flynn went out, third to first, retiring the side.

McDonald, the crack pitcher secured from Spartanburg in the Carolina League, was on the slab for the locals and he pitched a superb game. In the 14th inning not less than 42 men could face him and he held them down within two of this number, allowing but 44 men to come up before him during the entire game, which is considered mighty fine work for a pitcher. He allowed but two hits and struck out seven men. McDonald is already an idol of the local fans who recognize his superior qualities as a pitcher. Sullivan, who did the twirling for the visitors, also pitched a good game. His work was all that could be desired.

The games here have demonstrated the fact that the two teams are pretty evenly matched and that to win means hard work. In the 21 innings yesterday only two runs were made. Forty-seven innings were played during the series of four and Goldsboro was not permitted to get a single run. This is equivalent to five games won from the visitors.

There was intense interest in the second contest for Bussey and Umstead were the opposing pitchers and the local fans have been waiting for the opportunity to see the two men, both excellent twirlers, arrayed against each other. Bussey won his game to the gratification of the fans.

One pleasing feature about the series of four games just closed is that there was no kicking on the decisions of the umpire and no occasion for it. McLaughlin is one of the best umpires that has done service in the State this season.

The games yesterday closed the season so far as games on the local diamond are concerned. The Sailors will be at Wilson for three days this week and will end the season there. A large number of Wilmington fans will see the grand finish. The Atlantic Coast Line announces a rate of $2.50 to Wilson and return, tickets limited to Tuesday morning, or $3.50 limited to Thursday morning, and the reduced rate will be taken advantage of by many.

At the close of the first game yesterday afternoon the fans got together and made up $50 in cash which was distributed among the members of the team. McDonald, the slab artist, and Rath and Ross received $6 each and

IN PRAISE OF MR. BRYAN'S SPEECH.

The New York Commercial of last Thursday contained a two column editorial on Mr. Bryan's speech of acceptance of the day before. Below we give lengthy extracts from the article because we wish our readers to know what this leading commercial paper of the country has to say about Mr. Bryan's candidacy and the position he now occupies on the leading questions which interest the public. It is generally understood that the platform adopted by the Denver convention was approved of by Mr. Brayn and the conservatism of that document was somewhat of a surprise to the public, and then comes his speech of acceptance by the Democratic candidate, which shows that he advocates party principles that most "liberal Democrats" cannot object to. There is no radicalism in the platform or in the speech of acceptance. It is good, old-fashioned Democratic principle. Every man who ever voted the Democratic ticket can join Mr. Bryan in endorsement of the Democratic prinicples announced in the two documents. The opponents of Mr. Bryan can no longer call him populist, extremist, or radical Democrat. He has shown that he stands on the broad and liberal principles of the Democratic party—broad enough to give room to every man who opposes the principles on which the Republican party lays claim to popular support.

Following are extracts from the Commercial's editorial on Mr. Bryan's speech:

"Even the sharpest and most intolerant critics of William Jennings Bryan will be forced to admit that his speech at his Lincoln home yesterday in acceptance of the Democratic nomination for President of the United States was a thoroughly conservative outgiving and presented the general political issues of the year from an altogether wholesome and reasonable point of view. It must be said, of course, that extended treatment of the half-dozen or so leading questions of the campaign has been reserved by Colonel Bryan for later dates—as, for instance, the tariff.

"If one searches this address through for something in the nature of radicalism, about the only utterances of this character that it discloses are not the Democratic candidate's own at all, but quotations from one of President Roosevelt's special messages sent to Congress last Winter—as this, for instance, which Colonel Bryan makes the text of one of his "arraignments" of the opposition party:

"'The attacks of these great corporations (the agents of "predatory wealth" the President had previously called them) on the administration's actions have been given a wide circulation throughout the country, in the newspapers and otherwise, by those writers and speakers who, consciously or unconsciously, act as the representatives of predatory wealth—of the wealth accumulated on a giant scale by all forms of iniquity, ranging from the oppression of wage-earners to unfair and unwholesome methods of crushing out competition and to defrauding the public by stock-jobbing and the manipulation of securities. Certain wealthy men of this stamp, whose conduct should be abhorrent to every man of ordinarily decent conscience, and who commit the hideous wrong of teaching our young men that phenomenal business success must ordinarily be based on dishonesty, have during the last few months made it apparent that they have banded together to work for a reaction. Their endeavor is to overthrow and discredit all who honestly administer the law, to prevent any additional legislation which would check and restrain them and to secure, if possible, a freedom from all restraint which will permit every unscrupulous wrong-doer to do what he wishes, unchecked, provided he has enough money.'

"There is not a breath of unfairness, however, in Candidate Bryan's attack upon the opposing party on its tariff revision record. He says:

"'The President's close friends have been promising for several years that he would attack the iniquities of the tariff. We have had intimation that Mr. Taft was restive under the demands of the highly protected industries. And yet the influence of the manufacturers, who have for 25 years contributed to the Republican campaign fund and who in return have framed the tariff schedules, has been sufficient to prevent tariff reform. As the present campaign approached, both the President and Mr. Taft declared in favor of tariff revision but set the date of revision after the election. But the pressure brought to bear by the protected interests has been great enough to prevent any attempt at tariff reform before the election; and the reduction promised after the election is so hedged about by qualifying phrases that no one can estimate with accuracy the sum total of tariff reform to be expected in case of Republican success. If the past can be taken as a guide, the Republican party will be so obligated by campaign contributions from the beneficiaries of protection as to make that party powerless to bring to the country any material relief from the present tariff burdens.'

"Here Colonel Bryan actually credits the Republican party with too much in the way of tariff revision promises—for it has not promised "reduction" at all, but only revision; and that might be up rather than down. And it is strictly true that President Roosevelt has weakened and wilted down from the bold, outspoken position that he took on tariff reform early in his Presidential career. Judge Taft long ago—in August, 1906—took up the matter at length in one of his public addresses; but his party failed to rise to the occasion in its National platform and since then he has contented himself with generalities. In this forthcoming speech on the ariff exclusively Colonel Bryan has a splendid opportunity to sound a call that will force the Republican organization to show its hand plainly on its tariff revision program. If only he discloses exactly and definitely what he and his party propose to do with the Dingley schedules, he can make his Republican opponents fight on an issue that they would much prefer to avoid and on which they cannot successfully defend their record. And if he does, he will put into this campaign early the "ginger" that it might otherwise lack—for on many of the other public questions the two great parties are not so very far apart.

The Democratic candidate also has his opponents at a distinct disadvantage in the matter of their record on publicity for campaign contributions and disbursements— and he used it with good effect in his speech yesterday. Not only have Republican Congresses refused to pass any law compelling such publicity but the party itself in national convention assembled at Chicago rejected a publicity plank by a vote of eight hundred and eighty to ninety-four—a record that is bound to come back to plague it in this campaign with irritating and embarrassing frequency."

DEATH OF JUDGE FREDERICK MOORE.

It is with great regret the Star announces the death of Hon. Frederick Moore, of Asheville, Judge of the Fifteenth Judicial district, which occurred at his home in the mountain city Friday evening. Had Judge Moore listened to the appeal of friends and his physicians he would probably be alive today, but he thought his duty to the State more important than regard for his own health. He became ill while holding court at Bakersville, but would not adjourn the session. When he reached home after the expiration of the term he was suffering from a violent case of typhoid fever, which if administered to in time might have been checked before developing into a serious case. As it was, soon after yielding to the disease and submitting to medical treatment the attending physicians found there had already occurred perforation of the intestines. An operation was performed, but it was too late.

Judge Moore had been on the bench for about six years and was one of the most prominent men of the Asheville section of the State

CURRENT COMMENT.

—The Taft notification costing $10,000 while the Bryan notification cost only $500, is only another example of Republican extravagance. The people should elect a president who will save the country something on expenditures, and the man to do that is Bryan.—Greenville Reflector.

—President Eliot, of Harvard, says that Socialism has no chance in this country because wealth is too widely diffused. Wealth is not as widely diffused as it ought to be, but the Unterrified Democracy can be relied on to give the country such governmental reforms as it needs.—Greensboro Telegram.

—And so the Republican State convention at Charlotte is not to hear Judge Taft. Any one who has kept his ear to the ground could have prophecied as much. Taft has not forgotten what he said to his party in Greensboro two years ago and does not want to revive unpleasant memories in his hearers. He wants votes. —Greensboro Record.

Retorting to the good natured raillery of numerous contemporaries at his appointment by Colonel Henry Watterson as a member of the advisory staff of the Bryanites, Editor Caldwell, of the Charlotte Observer, remarks: "To the New York World et al.: Come on in; the water's fine." That's what we call turning the point with perfect neatness. — Salisbury Post

—It is worth jotting down that some of our esteemed independent Republican contemporaries are having a hard time in supporting Brother Taft. The issue is personal, they urge—it is Bryan or Taft. And on the personal issue they find that Taft is all right. But the trouble is that the issue is not personal; it is between two parties not between two men. Our esteemed Republican contemporaries, however independent they may think themselves, who support Taft are really supporting the things back of Taft—a wicked tariff, a centralizing government, an extravagant administration and the untold evils that have grown up in a party too long in power.—Philadelphia Record.

—The tremendous proportions of the railroad business and the intimate connection of the carrying traffic with the lives and ventures of the public clearly point the peril of imprudent political interference. But if the vital bigness of railway affairs should move the State to temper its regulations with discretion, still more ought it to compel efficiency and integrity of purpose among the men charged with control. The duty of the railroad managers to the public is measured by the standard of the billion dollar pay rolls, the nearly two billion tons of freight, the 900,000,000 responsibilities for human life in transit. Manipulation, stock kiting, and wrecking by high finance bear to the issue of railway operation a relation no less than criminal, falling chiefly upon the shoulders of the innocent the logical after burden of panic, poverty, and ruin.—New York World.

TWINKLINGS.

—"A man," said the patriot, "should be willing to risk his life in the service of his country." "I am." answered the constant candidate. "I'm willing to take chances on pneumonia on March 4th."—Washington Star.

—If they are going to make trouble for Old Joe Cannon and Taft on account of their religion, what will they do for Dr. Cyrus Thompson when he is called upon to explain his attrack upon the preachers.—Durham Herald.

—Bobbie, aged five, saw a cow grazing in his mother's flower garden, and shouted: "Scat! scat!" The cow didn't seem to be much intimidated, and calmly ate on. Three-year-old Mary, dancing with excitement exclaimed: "Tell him to 'scow,' Wobbie; tell him to 'scow!'"—The Delineator.

—An advertisement of a nursing bottle printed in a Canadian newspaper concluded with the following: "When the baby is done drinking it must be unscrewed and laid in a cool place under a tap. If the baby does not thrive on fresh milk, it should be boiled."—Manchester Union.

—During the recent uprising in the South of France the Minister of the Interior telegraphed to the chief of police in a Southern town. 'Arrest the rioters. What are you waiting for?" Back came the succinct reply! "I am waiting until they let me go."—The Circle.

—Masquerader (explaining who he is supposed to represent)—I'm that fellow who fought the battle of what do you call it, you know. What's his name—says all about him in his great book; you remember, every one took him for the other chap until they found he couldn't be; then they knew he wasn't. Think I look the part?—Sketch.

THE NEGRO QUESTION

It is Again and Unwillingly Forced on the Democrats by the Republicans.

(By H. L. Cook, Democratic Presidential Elector.)

To nine-tenths of the Southern voters, the name of the Republican party has always been repellant, as it was born in hatred of the South as a result of a fanatical crusade against an institution which existed in the South, developing questions which could not be settled except by force of arms and followed by a bloody war, and then by the reconstruction era, when the "bottom rail was on top" and the best manhood and womanhood of the South was degraded and humiliated, and every time that the people of North Carolina have so far forgotten the past as to permit that party to get into power, the same blighting effects have followed, until the last time, the people arose in their wrath and by one mighty effort drove them from favor as unworthy. The scandals and corruption of that era are fresh in the minds of our people.

It has been demonstrated that none but Democratic rule can give us good government in the South; the experiment has been tried and this fact established beyond any doubt.

The Republican National platform declares for the restoration of the rights of the negro to the ballot; carrying out its policy of always attempting to humiliate the South, that is the real South—the white people. It declares for the strict enforcement of the Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the Constitution, and Mr. Taft, in his speech of acceptance, unreservedly declares for the enforcement of these amendments in letter and spirit, without reservation.

Are the people of North Carolina ready to repeal the Constitutional amendment and have the negro returned to political power, with all the evil consequences to follow? Yet this is what the Republican party declares must be accomplished.

It's platform also declares for the reduction of the representation of the Southern States in Congress, because, as is alleged, of the disfranchisement of the negro. We do not want a reduction of our representation, but we would rather submit to that alternative than to again confront the power of the ballot in the hands of the negro and the awful consequences which follow. The only safe course for the South is to continue to vote the Democratic ticket, State and National.

There is less excuse today for a patriotic, true son of the South to vote the Republican ticket than ever before. Its hostility to the South in its determination that the negro shall rule our people, is more pronounced than ever.

Regardless of all other issues, this one alone compels us to stand where we have stood since the war—for the protection of our homes through the great Democratic party.

NEWS OF LUMBERTON

Second Primary Probable to Select Nominee for Register of Deeds. Water and Sewerage Extension Completed.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., Aug. 15.—Now that the time has been set for the Democratic primary in this county it is but natural that politics will soon be ahead of everything else. It is almost sure to take a second primary to decide who shall be Register of Deeds as there are seven or eight aspirants for that office.

Mr. R. D. Caldwell is having the gully at the south end of his lot greatly improved. The trees are all being removed and the place cleaned up generally. The sides are to be walled up, a green house is to be put down and a building to be used for cold storage will also be erected. This latter building will be kept cold by means of the flowing well, the water circulating through several coils of pipe.

A few days ago a lady going from here to a place near Raleigh purchased a through ticket via Hamlet, but when she arrived at Pembroke she evidently forgot herself and got off there along with several other passengers. One day this week a lady bound for Newbern, misunderstood the porter when he called out "Lumberton" and thought she was at Wilmington. She left the train and did not know of her mistake until she got up town after the train had gone.

The colored baseball team from Wilmington, which played against the Lumberton team three days this week lost all three games.

It is expected that quite a number of Lumberton Woodmen of the World will attend the unveiling exercises at Clarkton tomorrow.

It is understood that Editor Branch of the Red Springs Citizen has changed his plans and will not move to Lumberton as he recently expected to do.

Manager Hamilton, of the Western Union, certainly has just cause to feel proud of his success in training his messenger boys. He has been manager here less than five years, but in that time has taught seven messenger boys the art of telegraphy. Among those who have received their instructions from Mr. Hamilton are Mr. Frank Marion, now in the Western Union office in Charlotte; Mr. Ernest Branch, a train dispatcher in Charlotte; Mr. Arthur Shooter, one of the Seaboard Air Line operators at Lumberton, and Mr. Alex Britt, who is agent for the Atlantic Coast Line at McDonald. Mr. C. H. Miles, recently with the Seaboard, but who left Monday to take charge of the Covington, Va., telegraph office, was also one of Mr. Hamilton's messengers two or three years ago. Another one leaves next week to take a position in South Carolina.

A gentleman who has made a trip through the lower end of the county this week tells us that corn and cotton crops through that section are the finest he has ever seen. Fodder is being gathered and in a very short time cotton will be ready for picking.

Night Policeman James Carroll has purchased a lot in East Lumberton and expects soon to have erected thereon a residence to be occupied by himself and siser.

A colored Sunday School excursion is advertised for Monday to be run from Hamlet to Wilmington. Only a few of the colored people will miss the trip who can possibly take it in.

A prominent Republican, who attended the Republican county convention last Saturday, made the assertion that there was not a man in the county in either party who could defeat ex-Sheriff George McLeod for the State Senate, and that it would be foolishness for any one to undertake the job. That man has read the handwriting on the wall.

Mrs. Caroline Jones, who attended the funeral of her sister, Mrs. J. M. Stephens, at Jonesboro, last week returned home Thursday. Miss Clauda Davis is spending some time visiting relatives in Goldsboro——Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Townsend and children returned yesterday from Wrightsville, where they have been spending several days.

The work of extending the water and sewerage system has been completed and it is said that Lumberton now has one of the very best systems in the State. The very best grade of piping has been used and the work in every respect is of a high order. Capt. Farrell, the contractor, and Mr. W. S. Tomlinson, the surveyor in charge, have had many difficulties to contend with, but have overcome them all, and have given the town a piece of work which we trust will be entirely satisfactory. Both of these gentlemen have made many friends during their stay in Lumberton.

Mr. Casper Smith has resigned his position with the Pope Drug Co., where he has been employed as salesman for several years, and is succeeded by Mr. F. B. Singletary. It is learned that Mr. Smith will leave in a few days for Warrenton, where he will hold a similar position.

Messrs. White & Gough have opened a branch store at Barnesville. Mr. D. D. French is the manager in charge.

Ross Bass, a white man of family, 35 years old, was placed in jail here yesterday charged with rape on a white woman named Lizzie Evans. The hearing was held before Justice A. C. White, who refused to accept bond.

Mr. H. B. Ellis, who learned typesetting on the Robesonian under its founder, Rev. W. S. McDiarmid, nearly forty years ago, was a Lumberton visitor this week for the first time in over 25 years. He is still engaged in the printing business.

WALTERS ART IN PLACE

Opening of Magnificent Gallery in Baltimore in February—Critics Verify Each Piece and Catalogue Being Prepared.

The following from Friday's Baltimore Sun will be read with interest by the many friends of Mr. Henry Walters in this city and State:

After months of unceasing and exacting toil the army of workmen, under the direction of Mr. Faris C. Pitt, engaged in the placing of the famous collection of art and sculpture in the new Walters Art Gallery, at the northwest corner of Washington Place and Centre streets, have finished their work, and every painting, piece of statuary and bric-a-brac is now arranged as it will be found when the famous gallery is thrown open to the public next February.

The delay in opening the gallery is due to the fact that it will require several months to complete the catalogue, which is in the course of compilation. In keeping with this custom of making careful investigation and sparing no time nor expense to verify the authenticity of paintings, Mr. Henry Walters has engaged a corps of art critics to pass judgment upon each individual piece in his collection. It is his determination to have the catalogue absolutely authentic and complete in the information it is designed to impart.

It was learned yesterday that Mr. Walters is in daily touch with a number of celebrated authorities on art in New York, and that these men are giving their time and talents to Mr. Walters in his effort to have a complete and reliable catalogue.

The catalogue will be compiled along the lines of the one used at the Metropolitan Museum, New York. It will give the place of birth, the schools attended and the famous works produced by the artists whose works are owned by Mr. Walters. The works of the artists in the gallery will be elaborated upon, telling when they were produced, the conception of the artist or the subject treated. If an individual a short history of the personage will be included.

This catalogue will be a veritable treasure for every art lover and an encyclopedia of information for tohse visiting the gallery. It is believed that it will be the means of imparting such knowledge that the collection will be more highly appreciated and better understood by visitors.

For the purpose of establishing the producers of the famous Massaranti collection of antiques Mr. Walters has engaged the services of a number of distinguished scholars of the Roman epoch, including a number who now are connected with the best European schools. This collection embraces more than 2,000 vases, Greek and Roman marbles and a number of famous paintings. It is the aim of Mr. Walters to find out who made each of these beautiful specimens of the artist craft, when he lived, his methods of workmanship and how the piece came in possession of Father Massaranti. This collection was purchased by Mr. Walters in May, 1902, for $1,000,000. It has never been seen by the general public. Critics and connoisseurs agreed when the announcement was made of the purchase that this collection would put the Walters gallery on equality with the great public museums in Londan, Paris and Berlin.

In addition to this work Mr. Walters has engaged a noted Boston lithographer to compile a book illustrating some of his famous ceramics. These plates are being made with great care, faithfully reproducing every delicate shade that gives the work its individuality and shows the true artist. This work requires the efforts of a number of artists of high attainments, and will be a delight to the eye when finished. It is said that each of these books will cost several hundred dollars and that about a thousand will be made. It is believed that Mr. Walters will distribute them among his most intimate friends, including a number of famous artists and art critics.

Throughout the art world Mr. Walters' collection is noted for the extensive and important specimens of Oriental ceramics. The manner in which the initial collection of these now priceless treasures of Japanese handicraft, representative of the golden age of the art of Nippon, was obtained, has an interesting parallel in the purchase of the Massaranti collection. These rare bronzes, these porcelains, exquisite in coloring and graceful in form these elaborately carved ivories and beautiful lacquers, constituted the Japanese exhibit at the exhibition at Vienna in the late seventies. The exhibit was the first ever made by Japan in a foreign country and it was representative of the choicest work of the Mikado's realm.

When the exhibition was closed the expense and danger of transportation caused the officials to offer the collection for sale. While others hesitated, Mr. Walters took decisive action and made the purchase. Since then it has often been said by the Japanese that when they want to see the choicest art ever produced by their country they will be obliged to visit Mr. Walters' gallery.

As heretofore, the Association for the Improvement of the Condition of the Poor will have charge of the sale of tickets. It is probable that it will also be given the proceeds from the sale of the catalogues, for which a small charge will be made, as is the custom in other large galleries. It is believed that the gallery will be kept open the greater part of the year, when once opened, and not only during the few winter months, as heretofore.

A number of artists in this city were hopeful that they would be given cards of admission for any and all times, so that they could spend considerable time in the galleries studying the old masterpieces, thus improving their own technique and broadening their artistic conception. It is believed, however, that no distinction will be made in favor of artists.

It was stated yesterday by a well-known artist in close touch with Mr. Faris C. Pitt, who is Mr. Walters' personal representative in this city, that in all probability Mr. Walters would engage a celebrated art critic as curator to supervise his collection, and to act as a guide. His duties would also consist of imparting information concerning any piece of art, other than the limited amount contained in the catalogue. He would act in an advisory capacity to Mr. Walters in strengthening his collection.

A WARM WELCOME.

The Way an American Visitor Was Received In London.

"When I arrived in London," says a well known actor, "I received a charming letter from a man whose name I could not recall ever having heard before, but presuming that it must be some friend whom I had forgotten I readily accepted the invitation to dinner which the epistle contained and duly turned up the following evening at the hotel named. A gentleman whom I did not recognize at once approached me with outstretched hand, and so pleased did he seem to see me that I did not like to hurt his feelings by admitting that my memory had failed me, but trusted that some chance remark might presently remind me of our previous acquaintance.

"In due course we enjoyed the best dinner the house had to offer, accompanied by the very choicest cigars. At this point the gentleman left the room in order to get something out of his overcoat pocket and failed to reappear. I waited for him in vain. Then by degrees the truth dawned upon me, and I realized why he had been so genuinely pleased to meet me. However, he told so many amusing stories that the evening was pleasant enough to more than compensate me for being obliged to pay the bill."—New York Globe.

A SOLDIER'S DREAM.

This Little Gem of Fiction Comes to Us From France.

A French soldier who had been away from home for several years returned unexpectedly to his native town. The day of his arrival being Sunday, he went to the village church, believing his wife would be there, and he thus could see her the sooner. Taking a seat near the door, he waited until the service was over.

While waiting, being very much fatigued after a long journey, he fell asleep, his head resting on the back of the pew. While sleeping he dreamed of being seized as a spy and after a short trial was condemned and led out for execution. The guillotine had been erected, the army stood ranged about, and all the preparations were made as impressively as possible. The condemned man was placed in position, and the last act in the drama was at hand.

Just at that moment his wife was passing down the aisle of the church on her way out. She recognized her husband and in order to awaken him tapped his neck playfully with her fan as his head was thrown back on the seat. The contact of the fan he in his dream supposed to be the knife of the guillotine. The shock was so great it killed him instantly.

Almost at Rest.

A kind hearted but somewhat close fisted man who was sorely afflicted with a conscience came to a friend, holding a visiting card in his hand. He looked deeply troubled. "I know," said he, "this man wants to borrow money. I know he will drink it. What am I to do?"

"It is perfectly simple," said the friend. "Send down word that you are out."

"I cannot," he said. "I have never told a lie in my life."

"Then," said his friend, "lend all your money to me, and you can tell him you haven't a penny in your pocket."

After some hesitation the kind hearted man complied and, having seen his caller, returned.

"Well," asked his friend, "are your conscience and mind at rest?"

"Not quite, man," he replied, "but they will be as soon as you have given me my money back."—Bellman.

ROAST FROM ADAMS

the Seaboard Air Line for several years.

William J. Andrews, of Raleigh, the original promoter of Fiddlers Conventions in this State, says another one will be held here September 7th at Pullen Park.

The Republicans are very evidently counting on doing something in the Eighth Congressional district and they are going to send a lot of money there in an effort to defeat Congressman Hackett. This may be very positively stated. They are also talking a lot about what they term Democratic dissatisfaction in this the Fourth district and also the Fifth and some of their leaders have been heard to assert that they are going to carry Wake and Johnson counties which they claim are leaning very much their way.

It is expected that at least 100 deaf mutes, graduates of the old deaf mute school here and of the present one at Morganton will attend the State convention at the school for the blind here next Thursday and Friday and form a strong State association. Such association now exists in practically all the other States.

Republicans say that it is almost the unanimous wish of their party that Dr. Cyrus Thompson of Onslow county shall be the nominee for Governor, but though committees have been seen and a great many letters have been addressed him on the subject he has not as yet said whether he will allow his name to be used. The Republicans think him their best speaker. Since he retired from politics about six years ago he has been a practicing physician at Jacksonville. He is not a rich man and the expenses of the campaign will of course be felt by him. Some of the counties, notably Iredell, have endorsed Mr. Thompson as the nominee for Governor

BENEFIT OF RESCUE HOME.

Entertainment Promises to be Far Above the Average—Patronesses

From all indications the Rescue Home's benefit performance which will be given at the Academy of Music Thursday evening of this week will be attended by a large audience. The tickets for the event are selling very rapidly.

The committee in charge has offered a prize, a pretty gold pin, or a handsome back and side comb set, to the young lady selling the largest number of tickets and the young ladies who have entered the contest are working to win.

The entertainment is for a most worthy cause and will no doubt receive the hearty support of the citizens of the city. The Home is being founded by Capt. and Mrs. Fomby, who will leave for another field as soon as their task here has been completed, and the Home will be turned over to the city. Already a large number of helpless children and unfortunate women are being sheltered and cared for at the Home.

Mr. J. W. Martin, who has charge of the entertainment, has about completed the programme and wishes to thank not only those who are to take part, but also those who kindly offered their services. Mr. Martin promises an entertainment far above the average, having secured many clever and talented performers. He will also take an important part in the entertainment.

Among the patronesses who have been invited to atend are Mrs. W. H. Sprunt, Mrs. Jos. H. Watters, Mrs. J. H. Rehder, Mrs. J. M. Solky, Mrs. R. D. Tucker, Mrs. C. E. Le'Frage, Mrs. C. H. Dock, Mrs. B. C. Moore, Mrs. Henry Angel, Mrs. W. P. Oldham, Mrs. J. L. Solomon, Mrs. Herbert F. Wilder. The two lower boxes at the theatre have been reserved for the patronesses.

The programme of entertainment offers the following:

Miss Jean Le'Frage—Impersonations.

Miss Eunice Tucker—Musical Act.

Mr. Henry Angel—Blackface Comedian.

Judge Bornemann—Musical Act.

Johnson—Leonard and Martin—Farce Comedy.

Master Penny—The Young Comedian.

Murchison and Galloway—Sketch.

There are several others, but they have asked that their names be withheld until the night of the performance.

PROGRESSING BACKWARDS.

(Communicated.)

Sixty years or more ago one of our most prominent and venerable citizens visited New York and was very enthusiastic over Central Park. When he returned to his home, Wilmington, he set about getting options on suitable property for a park. He succeeded in getting options on the entire block, from Third to Fourth and Princess to Chesnut streets for $3,000, except that portion which was owned by the Thalian Association, who agreed to deed to the town, as it was then, what they owned. Our friend waited on the Council (as I think the Board of Aldermen were then called) with several other prominent citizens and upon deliberating several sessions (a habit which their successors, the Board of Aldermen, has never lost), they said that there was no money in the treasury. Sixty years afterwards a delightful spot was offered "free" by one of our charitable ladies and it was refused. What do you call this, Progress, or Regression?

BLEEDING A KING.

Louis XIV., a Greedy Physician and an Unscrupulous Surgeon.

In 1693, when Louis XIV. began to feel the first touches of age, his physicians ordered him to be bled once a month. That duty was of course intrusted to Marechal, his Irish surgeon.

There was at the time in Paris, says the British Medical Journal, a young brother of the craft who conceived the idea of making his fortune by bleeding the king. The enterprise was difficult, but he knew that the most solid doors can often be opened with a golden key.

Following the advice of Iago, he put money in his purse and sought an introduction to Antoine Daquin, the king's chief physician. The negotiation was conducted on a strict business footing. Daquin, who was known to love money, was told that 10,000 crowns were deposited with a notary who had instructions to transfer the sum to him as soon as the surgeon had got the job.

It was not an easy thing to manage, as Marechal never left the king. One day, however, he asked permission to leave Versailles for three days. Daquin seized the opportunity to introduce his protege, whom he had ready at hand for the purpose. Feeling the king's pulse one morning, as usual, he pretended to be alarmed at its strength and volume and ordered the illustrious patient to be bled forthwith. As Marechal was away, the king hesitated, but fear soon made him yield to his physician's proposal. The young surgeon bled the king, and Daquin got his money.

In the meantime a message had been dispatched for Marechal, who was not far off. He returned to Versailles in haste and was much surprised to find that the king, whom he had left in the best of health, had been bled. He was not on friendly terms with Daquin, and he quickly grasped the situation. He went to see the young surgeon and forced him to disclose the whole plot.

When the king learned the truth, he flew into a terrible rage, ordered Daquin to be arrested and placed the matter in the hands of the council of state. That obsequious body, after a very short deliberation, unanimously voted that the physician who had trafficked in the blood of the king deserved death. The royal wrath, however, subsided to some extent, and he graciously spared Daquin's life, but deprived him of his office and exiled him from the court to Quimper-Corentin. The too greedy physician did not long survive his disgrace.—London Standard.

The Science of Chemistry.

Chemistry did not become a science—in other words, chemistry proper did not exist—until the seventeenth century, and it was as late as the middle of the eighteenth century before it began to amount to much. The old alchemy undoubtedly contained the germs, or at least the possibilities, of the present day chemistry, but beyond this the relationship between the modern science and the ancient delusion is slight indeed. Still, it cannot be denied that it was in the foolish search for the "Philosopher's Stone" and the "Elixir of Life" that men first hit upon the discoveries which were destined to develop into the great science of today.—New York American.

The Sarcastic Cabby.

The London bobby is notorious for overgrown feet and hands. Likewise the London cabby is generally accredited with never being at a loss for a reply. One day a bobby lifted up his hand majestically to halt a cabby, but the latter crowded his horse ahead.

"Didn't you see me raise my 'and?" demanded the bobby.

"I did see the sky darken a moment, but my 'orse was shyin' at your feet," retorted the cabby as he whipped up and went on.—London Graphic.

WARM WIRELETS.

Referee in Bankruptcy William R. Blair, of Pittsburg, declared today that no date has been set for the first meeting of the creditors of Harry K. Thaw, notwithstanding the statemeint from a New York creditor to Attorney Charles Morschuser that the date had been fixed for September 6.—Referee Blair also denied vigorously a report which was current here today to the effect that he was related to the Thaw family.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Nashville Graphic: A terrible accident occurred at the planing mill of Mr. Stevens in this place Monday afternoon, when Mr. Frank Stevens, a most estimable young man accidentally had his hand and arm crushed in the machinery of the mill. Mr. Stevenson was passing a line of shafting and a nut thereon caught his glove drawing his arm into the machinery with the above result.

—Greensboro, Aug. 14.—Mayor J. L. Brandt, representing the city of Greensboro; G. S. Bradshaw, the Centennial organization, and Garland Daniel, the Central Carolina Fair Association, will go as a committee the latter part of this week to Hot Springs, Va., to see Candidate Taft and press the invitation for him to deliver an address at the Greensboro centennial ceremonies here in October.

—Alamance Gleaner: The Commissioners of the town of Graham have made an amendment to Sec. 28 of the town ordinances, as follows: "That no person shall get upon an automobile or motor car doing public service whether moving or standing in said own, unless entering or leaving the same as passenger or unless upon the same for business. Any person violating the provisions of this ordinance shall be fined $5 for each offense."

—Kenansville News: The County Commissioners are letting out the many bridges that were recently washed away. The main bridges across the Northeast are the ones at Cinquapin, Deep Bottom, Hallsville, Serecta and Weaver. The one at Serecta will cost more than any other to replace but none of them will have to be made anew. The cost of all the bridges will hardly exceed $1,000 which is far less than anyone expected.

—Nashville Graphic: Mrs. Fannie Williams, one of Nashville's oldest citizens, died in this place early Tuesday morning after an illness of several months. Mrs. Williams was about 80 years old and for many years had been in feeble health and resided in her humble cottage on Washington street, which has been a place of much interest to our oldest inhabitants. Mrs. Williams was a daughter of Levi Bryant, who moved to this place from Halifax county in 1845.

—The Robesonian: A lady who had no intention whatever of visiting Lumberton, spent the day here Tuesday because she made a mistake and did not find it out until it was too late to remedy it right away. She was bound for Wilmington and when Lumberton was called out on the train she heard nothing but the "ton" and got off. She wired her husband from here and went on to Wilmington that night, and as long as she lives she will never forget that the last part of the names of some towns is just alike.

—Kenansville News: Mrs. Mary Farrior celebrated her 80th birthday Wednesday and all of her children were present. Among those here from a distance were Mr. D. L. Farrior and children, of Raleigh; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Farrior, of Wilson; Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Ward, of Newbern; Mrs. G. W. McMillan, of Wilson. The children living here are Misses Bettie and Jessie Farrior and Messrs. J. W., James D., A. P., E. A. and P. L. Farrior. Mrs. Farrior has reached the four score year and her friends hope that she may see many more birthdays at which all of her children and grandchildren will be present. She is one of the best women in all the world and everybody loves her.

—Winston-Salem, Aug. 14.—Ella Poe and Lulu Harrell, white girls, 13 years old each, of Revolution a cotton mill settlement near Greensboro were taken into custody here by the police today, upon advices received from the girls' relatives, saying that they were runaways. They have been here since Tuesday at a boarding house and, when discovered they were penniless. The girls were not very much abashed or in the least frightened at their capture, but seemed to be regretful over the fact that they would be sent home tonight. The Harrell girl is rather good looking. When asked why they had run away, one of the girls replied that they had too little spending money at home and just got restless to get away.

—Houston Post: The John B. Hood Camp, Confederate Veterans, of Austin, Texas, have filed a formal protest with Governor Campbell against the action of the State text-book board in adopting for public schools of the State a certain elementary arithmetic, because it contained the following examples, which the camp holds is an adroit attempt to foist the names of Federal leaders on the youth of the South: "General Grant was born April 27, 1822, and was 41 years, 2 months and 7 days old when Vicksburg, Miss. was captured. When did he capture Vicksburg?" "General William T. Sherman was born February 8, 1820, and finished his great march through Georgia December 13, 1864. How old was he on that day?" "General Sheridan was born March 6, 1831, and made his famous ride from Winchester to the battlefield at Cedar Creek October 19, 1864. What was his age then?"

A Grand Family Medicine.

"It gives me pleasure to speak a good word for Electric Bitters," writes Mr. Frank Conlan of No. 436 Houston St., New York. "It's a grand family medicine for dyspepsia and liver complications; while for lame back and weak kidneys it cannot be too highly recommended." Electric Bitters regulate the digestive functions, purify the blood, and impart renewed vigor and vitality to the weak and debilitated of both sexes. Sold under guarantee at R. R. Bellamy's drug store. 50c.

Mother does the little one have croup or colic? If so get bottle Mother's Joy.

Wild Animals and Medicine.

A writer in the British Medical Journal thinks that an interesting essay might be written on the addition to medical remedies made by animals. It is said that it is to dogs we owe the knowledge of the fever abating properties of bark, while to the hippopotamus is attributed the use of bleeding. The story as told in Philemon Holland's translation of Pliny is as follows: "The riuer-Horse hath taught physitions one deuice in that part of their profession called Surgerie, for he finding himself ouer-grosse and fat by reason of his high feeding so continually gets forth of the water to the shore, hauing spied afore where the reeds and rushes haue bin newly cut, and where he seeth the sharpest cane and best pointed hee ets his body hard on to it to pricke a certaine veine in one of his legs, and thus by letting himself bloud maketh evacuation, whereby his body, otherwise inclining to diseases and maladies, is well eased of the superfluous humor, and hauing thus done hee stoppeth the orifice againe with mud and so stancheth the bloud and healeth the wound."

His Idea of the English.

The following illustrates Louis Philippe's idea of England and the English. He one day asked Hugo if he had ever been in England and on receiving a negative reply continued:

"Well, when you do go—for you will go—you will see how strange it is. It resembles France in nothing. Over there are order, arrangement, symmetry, cleanliness, well mowed lawns and profound silence on the streets. The passersby are as serious and as mute as specters. When, being French and alive, you speak in the street these specters look back at you and murmur with an inexpressible mixture of gravity and disdain, 'French people!' When I was in London I was walking arm in arm with my wife and sister. We were conversing in a not too loud tone of voice, for we are well bred persons, you know, yet all the passersby, bourgeois and men of the people, turned to gaze at us, and we could hear them growling behind us: 'French people! French people!'"—"Memoirs of Victor Hugo."

Rossini and the Drum.

When Rossini's "Gazza Ladra" was performed for the first time the drum in the orchestra not only excited much comment, but caused the enemies of the composer, whom they denounced as a "foolish inventor of unmusical novelties," to threaten Rossini with bodily violence. One young man, a pupil of Rolla's, gained admission to the composer's presence and declared that art had been so violently outraged by the invention that he must kill the offender. He drew a weapon, but consented to listen to argument. He had been a soldier, and when the composer asked him why there should not be a drum where there are soldiers he sheathed his knife. "Promise me, though," he said, "that you will put no drums in your future music." Rossini promised, but forgot.

The Retort Courteous.

A young man in a hurry went through the left side of a pair of swinging doors in the senate wing of the capitol at Washington last session and almost knocked over a senator who was about to push through the right side.

The young man apologized profusely. "I'm very sorry—I didn't know I was—I am in a great hurry."

"That's all right, son," said the senator. "But let me give you a piece of advice about going through doors like these. Always go through on the right side and turn to the right. Then if you meet anybody coming through and bump into him you needn't apologize. He'll be a durned fool, and it won't be necessary. Good morning."—Saturday Evening Post.

Greatly Underestimated.

"Bobby," asked his Sunday school teacher, "do you know how many disciples there were?" The little boy promptly said that he did and answered, "Twelve." Then he went on, "And I know how many Pharisees there were too."

"Indeed!"

"Yes'm. There was just one less than there was disciples."

"Why, how do you know that? It is nowhere stated how many Pharisees there were."

"I thought everybody knew it," said Bobby. "The Bible says, 'Beware of the 'leven of the Pharisees,' doesn't it?"—Youth's Companion.

The Grandest.

"What is the grandest thing in the universe?" asks Victor Hugo. "A storm at sea," he answers and continues, "And what is grander than a storm at sea?" "The unclouded heavens on a starry, moonless night." "And what is grander than these midnight skies?" "The soul of man"—a spectacular climax such as Hugo loved and still, with all its dramatic effects, the picturesque statement of a vast and sublime and mighty truth.

Wigwag—I believe there's a tinge of insanity in all religious enthusiasts. Henpeckke—Yes; take the Mormons, for instance. Any man that wants more than one wife is plumb crazy.—Philadelphia Record.

The Spoor.

"I'm gunning for railroads," announced the trust buster.

"Then come with me," whispered the near humorist. "I can show you some of their tracks."—Southwestern's Book.

Beware of the man who does not return your blow; he neither forgives you nor allows you to forgive yourself.—George Bernard Shaw.

Let Kodol

Digest what you eat. Then you can Eat what you like.

You once could eat anything you wanted, and your stomach would digest it.

But now there's some things which your stomach won't digest. Your stomach absolutely refuses to accommodate you when you eat certain food—so you have been forced by your stomach to eat food which you detested, and pass up those delicacies that you would have really enjoyed.

There is a way now to eat any thing you like, if you will let Kodol digest it.

Kodol will do this, too. It won't talk back or command, but will go right ahead with its work and digest all the food you eat. Kodol will let you eat anything you like and all you want, and you won't suffer with that dull feeling, that fullness, and wish you hadn't eaten so much.

You will not have that heart-burn, which is so annoying at times, if you will let Kodol digest your food a while.

You don't have to use Kodol long—only for a little while—just long enough for your stomach to rest a little. It gets tired sometimes, too—just the same as anybody or part of your body that works.

Kodol will do exactly what your stomach does, when your stomach is well and strong, and more, when it is tired or out of order.

Kodol is composed of exactly the same juices as found in a healthy stomach, and therefore will do the same work as the stomach, when it is well and strong—the only difference is, Kodol never gets tired—and Kodol is the only digestant to-day, that will digest all food and do it as completely, as a strong, healthy stomach.

Get a bottle now and have it ready to help your stomach at times when you need an assistant. Kodol is at the nearest drug store.

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today and get a dollar bottle. Then after you have used the entire contents of the bottle if you can honestly say, that it has not done you any good, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money without question or delay. We will then pay the druggist for the bottle. Don't hesitate, all druggists know that our guarantee is good. This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family. The large bottle contains 2½ times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Aug. 15.—The cotton market opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 4 points on scattered covering. Prices eased off some 4 or 5 points right after the opening, but the market rallied again during the middle of the morning, with October selling at 9.21, or the highest price since the break last Wednesday. The demand seemed to come chiefly from shorts, probably evening up for over the week-end. Later reports are that only 600 bales of yesterday's spot sales in Savannah are to come to New York for delivery on August contracts. The market closed steady with prices 40 points lower to 7 points higher.

Receipts at the ports today 4,095 bales against 1,909 last week and 2,309 last year; for the week 40,000 bales against 24,037 last week and 10,978 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 257 bales against 50 last year and at Houston 3,349 against 828 last year.

Spot quiet, 10 points lower; middling uplands 10.50; middling gulf 10.75; sales 68 bales. Futures opened and closed steady.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Aug. 15.—The dry goods market for today was very quiet. Jobbers who did not get the full assortment they were looking for at the auction made a round of the selling agencies during the day and found prices fairly firm. Sales of print cloths for the week were in excess of the production. Dress linen orders are very gratifying to importers and house keeping linens are being called for better. Burlaps are easier in the Calcutta market.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Aug. 15.—The opening of the stock market was awaited with considerable interest this morning owing to the severe decline of yesterday. Reports that speculative pools had liquidated heavily and that important market interests were selling colored to some extent by the lack of support to special stocks yesterday. The market abroad, however, showed little reflection of the weakness here yesterday and after early heaviness rallied, so that when business commenced here the comparative changes were slight. This circumstance had an encouraging effect on the local speculation so that first prices were not altered much from last night's closing, though the tendency was downward.

In the final dealings there was a general covering movement of extensive proportions, which reduced general losses to a trivial fraction and advanced St. Paul to a point above yesterday's closing. The bond market was steady. Sales $810,000.

United States 3s registered advanced 1-4 per cent. on call during the week. Total sales, today were 472,600 shares.

FINANCIAL MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Aug. 15.—Money on call nominal. Time loans firm and dull; sixty days 2 and ninety days 2 1-2; six months 3 1-2 to 4 per cent. Prime mercantile paper 3 to 4 per cent. Sterling exchange steady with actual business in bankers bills at 4.8490 to 4.85 for sixty day bills and at 4.8640 to 4.8645 for demand. Commercial bills 4.84 to 4.84 5-8. Bar silver 51 1-8. Mexican dollars 45.

WEEKLY BAN KSTATEMENT.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Aug. 15.—The statement of the clearing house shows that the banks hold $57,618,625 more than the requirements of the 25 per cent. reserve. This is a decrease of $1,605,650 in the proportionate cash reserve as compared with last week. The statement follows: Loans $1,290,013,600, increase $14,392,000. Deposits $1,385,928,300, increase $17,411800. Circulation $55696,600, decrease $306,800. Legal tenders $79,464,800, increase $903,100. Specie $324,635,900, increase $1,844,200. Reserve $404,100,700, increase $2,747,300. Reserve required $346,483,075, increase $4,352,950. Surplus $57,618,625, decrease $1,605,650. Excess of United States deposits $59,924,525, decrease $1,608,650. The percentage of actual reserve of the clearing house banks at the close of business yesterday was 29.43. The statement of banks and trust companies of Greater New York not members of the clearing house shows that these institutions have aggregate deposits of $1,025,423,000, total cash on hand $100,861,200, and loans amounting to $918,097,100.

--Shelby, Aug. 14.—The Rabbit's Foot Comedy Company, a negro minstrel troupe composed of about 25 negroes, gave their show here last night. They reloaded preparatory to leaving this morning and then went to sleep in their special car. They stabled their horses and packed their tents and furnishings in the rear of the car. About 8 o'clock this morning, while all were still asleep, one of the horses kicked over a tank of gasoline, which ran down the car and into the cooking department, where it came in contact with a hot stove and exploded. The cook and six other negro laborers, who were sleeping in this department were horribly burned, three of them possibly fatally. Two of the horses were burned to death, while another was taken from the car in a horrible condition. The car, which was recently built at a cost of about $10,000 and all the show furnishings were entirely destroyed. The fire was so sudden that nothing could be saved. According to the attending physicians, none of the injured will die, although Stegall, Moran, Grant and Connelly are all burned in such a manner that they will likely be unable to leave the hospital for several weeks.

Thinks It Saved His Life.

Lester M. Nelson, of Naples, Maine, says in a recent letter: "I have used Dr. King's New Discovery many years, for coughs and colds, and I think it saved my life. I have found it a reliable remedy for throat and lung complaints, and would no more be without a bottle than I would be without food." For nearly forty years New Discovery has stood at the head of throat and lung remedies. As a preventive of pneumonia, and healer of weak lungs it has no equal. Sold under guarantee at R. R. Rock Candy Syr. vs. Thin People

Thin and delicate people would do well to remember that there is nothing more health-giving and tissue-building than PURE ROCK CANDY SYRUP. It is exceedingly wholesome and nutritious. Combined with the pure juices of various fruits, the combination is not only nutritious and wholesome, but very palatable.

Many people, and not a few in Wilmington, mix rock candy syrup with vanilla or some other favorite flavor and use it for eating with batter cakes, waffles and the like, and there is nothing more delicious, palatable and nutritious than such a combination for breakfast. UNWRITTEN LAW IS INVOKED

PISTOL BROUGHT IN PLAY

To Vindicate a Man's Honor—An Army Officer Shoots Down a Man in a Crowd of Society People—No Excuse Made.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Bayside, L. I., Aug. 15.—Captain Peter Conover Hains, Jr., U. S. A., son of Brigadier General Peter Conover Hains, U. S. A., retired, fired five bullets from a revolver into William E. Annis, of New York, owner and publisher of Burr McIntosh's Monthly and other magazines, late today on the landing stage of the Bayside Yacht Club, Flushing, and Annis, whom Captain Hains' brother had accused of having been improperly attentive to the captain's wife, died in the Flushing hospital a few hours after the shooting.

A crowd of gayly dressed women and yachtsmen, among whom was Mrs. Annis, witnessed the tragedy.

Captain Hains, accompanied by his brother, Thornton Jenkins Hains, well known as an author and amateur yatchsman, walked to the landing stage of the club as Annis and a club member named Harway were disembarking from a boat, and at once opened fire upon the man whom he holds responsible for the disruption of his home. Annis attempted to get behind Harway, but Captain Hains reached under Harway's arm and emptied his revolver upon his enemy.

Immediately there was commotion on the club house veranda. Mrs. Annis fainted, and a dozen yatchsmen rushed to the float to the assistance of Annis. Before they could get to the side of the wounded man, however, T. J. Hains, the Captain's brother, whipped a revolver out and threatened to shoot the first man who interferred. This is an affair between these two, he said calmly.

Annis, with two bullets in his abdomen, one in the arm and two in his legs, was hurried to the hospital.

Captain Hains and his brother, neither of whom appeared in any way disturbed, awaited the arrival of the police on the club float, and there surrendered themselves. In the police station the captain refused to divulge the motive which prompted him to shoot Annis, but his brother declared that Annis paid improper attentions to his brother's wife, and that the latter had no other redress open to him than to kill Annis. He then sent the following telegram to his father, General Haines: "Annis is shot. Come to the Flushing jail."

Later in the evening Captain Hains telephoned to his lawyer, Mr. W. C. Perry, asking him to come to the Flushing jail.

Captain Hains is attached to Fort Hancock as quartermaster, having entered the army at the close of the Spanish-American war with the rank of Second Lieutenant of artillery. His father, Brigadier General Peter Conover Hains, is a West Point graduate with a distinguished war record. During the conflict with the South he was several times breveted for gallant and meritorious service. Since then he has achieved prominence as an engineer, having had charge of the Potomac flats improvements and numerous works of harbor defence. He was made a member of the board of ordance and fortifications and of the Nicaragua and Isthulan canal commission. In 1898 he was appointed brigadier general of volunteers, taking part in both the Cuban and Porto Rican campaigns. He attained the rank of brigadier general of regulars in 1903 and was retired July 6, 1904.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Both Captain and Mrs. Hains have friends in Washington who have kept close track of an application for divorce filed by the former last June and they recall the fact that Captain Hains eloped with his wife, a Miss Claudia Libbery, of Winthrop, Mass., in 1900, when she was a school girl of 16 years of age. So far as is known here they had lived happily together until last May when Captain Hains returned from a trip to the Pacific coast on a summons from his brother, who claimed to have made discoveries of improper conduct on the part of Mrs. Hains. At that time Captain Hains summoned his father, Brigadier General Hains, to New York, who, upon returning, stated that his daughter-in-law had made a confession to him that convinced him of the correctness of the son's position. The couple have three children which are in the custody of General Hains.

Sandy Hook, Aug. 15.—General Hains, who is living here at Fort Hancock received the news of the shooting of Annis by his son today and started at once for Flushing. He was asked to make some comment on the motives which had prompted the act but declined to make any statement. Captain Hains arrived only recently from the Philippines and was detailed for duty at Fort Hancock. His mother has charge of the house detailed for his use at the fort. His wife is said to be living in Boston.

NEW YORK STATE FOR DEMOCRACY

Tamnany Leader Sums-up Political Situation and Predicts Victory in Empire State.

TIRED OF BIG STICK METHODS

He Assigns as Reason For Bryan's Increased Popularity—A Forecast of the Situation Throughout the Country.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Aug. 15.—Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, gave out an interview today in which he declared that his view of the political situation in New York State is that "The Democracy is going to win this year." Of Mr. Bryan the Tammany chieftain he said:

"Mr. Bryan is much stronger in the State than he was either in 1896 or 1900. Why? I do not exactly know yet, but the fact remains that there is a variety of evidence on which to base belief in his increased popularity.

"One reason, I think, lies in dissatisfaction with Roosevelt and Roosevelt policies—too much autocratic rule and swinging of the big stick. A great many men who side with the Republican party in the past will not do so this year. It means something when men like Judge Morgan, J. O'Brien and Delancey Nicoll, who opposed Bryan in the past, are now going to vote for him."

"Will Mr. Bryan at the head of the National ticket be a help to the State Democratic ticket instead of a drag as in the past?" was asked.

"Yes, I think his name will be of material assistance this year. We endorse the ticket and platform heartily and shall go right to work for it."

Mr. Murphy was asked if the Democratic leaders had agreed on a man or type of man wanted to head the State ticket.

"Neither the man nor the type," replied Mr. Murphy. "My idea of what should be done is this: Settle on no candidate or even type in advance, but let us have a lot of candidates from which to choose the best. I favor letting every man who aspires to be a candidate for the nomination announce himself and giving him a welcome into the field. Let us have candidates from all parts of the State. Then we can gain some idea from popular expression which man, or which type of man will give the best assurance of Democratic victory this fall.

"I have no candidate of my own. I do not pretend to know even who or what kind would be most advisable; so I believe in opening up the field to all."

MADE PHENOMENAL FLY.

Capt. Baldwin's Military Balloon Broke Aerial Navigation Records.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, Aug. 15.—The Baldwin airship landed at Fort Myer tonight after making a flight which broke all records for aerial navigation in this country. For two hours and five minutes the big military dirigible, built for the United States army, flew back and forth over a course nearly five miles in length in the official endurance trial.

The airship is now the property of the signal corps of the United States army, a few formalities only remaining to be gone through with before Captain Baldwin turns his aerial craft over to General Allen, chief signal officer. The members of the board of signal officers who have conducted the tests were elated over today's showing. The airship has withstood every test required of it by the terms of the contract between the government and Captain Thomas S. Baldwin.

It is believed that the board of signal officers who will meet on Monday, will figure the average speed attained by Captain Baldwin on his speed trial yesterday at 20 miles an hour, thus entitling the aeronaut to the full contract price, $6,750.

It was 6:38 this evening when the "aeronaut" rose gradually from the ground to make the test for the final requirement of the specifications. Four minutes later it crossed the starting line, where it was timed by Lieutenants Selfridge and Creecy. Flying over the same course as on the speed trial yesterday two and a sixteenth miles in the direction of Cherrydale, Va., the first trip was made in sixteen minutes. This was an average speed for the round trip of 13 1-2 miles an hour.

The rate attained in the speed trial yesterday was surpassed on the third trip over the course today, when an average of nearly 21 miles an hour was attained. On the outward half of this trip the ship sailed across the sky at a rate of nearly 45 miles an hour. This probably was due to the Aeronaut's striking a swift current of air. The total distance covered in today's trial was between 28 to 30 miles.

In today's test it was required that Captain Baldwin remain in continuous flight for two hours, at an average speed equalling 70 per cent. of that attained in the speed trial yesterday, 19.16 miles an hour. This would be 13.34 miles an hour. It is estimated that the average maintained in today's flight was about 17 miles an hour.

THE RACE RIOTS IN SPRINGFIELD

DISTURBANCE CONTINUED

Crowd Gathers and Threatens to Storm the State Guard Armory—Troops Patrolling City. Casualties to Date.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 15.—The second lynching of the Springfield riot according to a report to the police, occurred at Spring and Edward streets tonight. A negro whose name is said to be Parks, was strung up to a telephone pole by a mob of such proportions that the firemen and the policemen who responded to the first alarm were unable to handle it. Reinforcements of troops were sent for.

Another disturbance took place in front of the State armory, where a crowd gathered and threatened to storm the building wherein were housed a number of negro refugees. Company L., of the fourth infantry, and Troop B., of cavalry, were sent to the place charged the mob with bayonets and dispersed it. This affair was simultaneous with the lynching of Parks, four blocks away. The city which is richest in memories of the great emancipator, is tonight an armed camp because its citizens yesterday gave vent to hatred of the race which Abraham Lincoln declared free and equal with all other people in this country. Squads of soldiers are patrolling the down town streets, and in the troubled portions of the community, entire battalions are watching over the lives and property of the negroes.

Early today friends of William Bowe, a county official who was so seriously hurt that he is hoveing between life and death, made efforts to enlist followers for a raid of vengeance upon the black belt. "Taking a lesson from last night's experience," Sheriff Warner at once notified Governor Deneen that fresh outbreaks were threatening and that more troops would be necessary. The response of the executive was prompt and as a consequence a full brigade of State troops is here under the command of General E. C. Young. The troops consist of the First, Fourth and Fifth Regiments of infantry, the Second squadron of cavalry and a Gatling gun squadron. Two of the infantry regiments are scattered through the city at various points, the first regiment being held in reserve and the fourth on patrol duty.

The determination of the State to preserve order is shown in the following statement given out by Governor Deneen this evening. He said:

"The outbreak by mob violence was as intolerable as it is inexcusable. The idea of wreaking vengeance upon a race for the crimes of one of its members is utterly repugnant to all notions of law and justice. No Government can maintain its self-respect and permit it. The entire resources of the State will be drawn upon, if necessary, to protect every citizen of Springfield in his person and property. And those who violate the law must suffer the consequences."

As further precaution all business establishments in the city closed at 6 o'clock. The saloons and liquor stores have not been open since before midnight Friday. So strict was the regulations for keeping the people off the streets that the Mayor caused a postponement of the opening performance of "A Broken Idol," a new musical play which was to have been presented by the Whitney Musical Company of Chicago. One of the numbers in the performance entailed the appearance of the chorus in guise of negroes, and it was largely on this account that the Mayor took this action. One death was recorded today as a result of the riots. John Caldwell, who was a spectator of the fighting in East Springfield, died in a hospital from the effects of a bullet wound in the stomach. Among the other victims were Louis Johnson, who was killed when Loper's restaurant was wrecked, and Scott Burton, an aged negro, who was lynched at Twelfth and Madison streets early this morning. Of the wounded, Frank Delmore and Theodore Scott, both of whom were shot through the lungs, are not expected to live through the night. William Bowe has a fighting chance for life according to the physicians. The other seriously injured persons, all suffering from gunshot wounds are as follows: Robert Seidler, William Mallot, Charles Helme, Lester Holt, John Norkins, Eugene Mayoll, Will Smith, (colored) Robert Oakley (colored), Lewis Hansen, Arthur Troyman, John Barrington, Charles Duncan (colored), Ossie Donegan shot in eye.

All day timid negroes have been leaving the city with their families, and such possessions as they could hurriedly pack. This exodus took place despite the assurances of Governor Deneen that full protection would be afforded to those who remained in their homes.

The Governor also took steps to alleviate the distress of the families whose homes or places of business were destroyed by the mob. A refugee camp was established at Camp Lincoln and Companies D., and H., were sent to guard it. About three score persons were in the camp today. Harry Loper, whose restaurant was wrecked after he had assisted the Sheriff in spiriting away two negro prisoners from the jail, left late today for a resort in Michigan. He took the members of his family with him, but refused to mention their destination. Loper, in common with other property owners who suffered loss at the hands of the mob, was notified by the insurance companies today that all policies were rendered void by the riot. Under the statutes the city and county are each responsible for the property losses and special assessments will be levied to cover the damages.

The negro lynched tonight has been identified as William Donegan, 80 years old. The outrage took place within two blocks of the State capitol. Governor Deneen was in his office and at once ordered the troops to scatter the crowd at all hazards. The mob broke before the cavalry arrived.

A CRUISER RUNS ASHORE.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 15.—The United States armored cruiser Colorado, of the Pacific fleet, en route from Puget Sound Navy Yard to San Francisco, ran ashore at Double Bluff in Puget Sound, 25 miles north of Seattle, about 10 o'clock today. Wireless messages from the cruiser to this city report her as resting easy and the belief was expressed that she would be floated at high tide this evening. The naval tug Navajo and the revenue cutter Arcata have gone to the Colorado's assistance.

Double Bluff, where the Colorado went ashore, is 25 miles north of Seattle. The precipitous bluff is barren of residents. There was little fog in the sound until near Point Nopoint, directly across Double Bluff, which rises high and forbidding on the south shore of Whidby Island. As the ship was slipping along there suddenly came from the forward lookout on the starboard bow a shout of alarm followed by a shock as the big cruiser grounded.

A reversal of the engines failed to pull her off and the accident was then reported by wireless to Bremerton Navy Yard.

The revenue cutter Arcata left from Port Townsend and the tug Navajo was sent from the Navy Yard. The cruiser has been ordered back to the yard and will go into drydock for repairs.

THE GOULD DIVORCE SUIT.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Aug. 15.—Mrs. Helen Gould, through her counsel today servan amended complaint in her suit for divorce from Frank J. Gould. The new complaint differs in several particulars from the original one, which was recently filed in the county clerk's office. The most important difference in this latest complaint is that a corespondent is named, Mr. Gould being charged with improper conduct with a woman living in this city, whose name is given. In her original complaint Mrs. Gould alleged that her husband had been guilty of improper conduct while at North Sidney, Cape Breton, on a yachting cruise on the Helinita in June, 1906. Mr. Gould filed an answer to the first complaint denying the allegations.
